Sponsorship Options

IHEEP—International Highway Engineering Exchange Program brings together transportation engineers, officials, leaders and industry representatives from various countries, states, counties, cities and consulting firms, from both North America and Europe. The IHEEP organization is highly respected with transportation agencies and is a go-to resource for promoting advances in transportation engineering through the exchange of knowledge and information technology. The IHEEP Board of Directors cordially invites you to participate in IHEEP 2019. IHEEP 2019 provides opportunity for the vendor community to share their products and solutions to transportation agency representatives who are facing similar transportation business and technology challenges. IHEEP is focused on educating, engaging and delivering on key topics of interest. The attendees will not only leave the conference well educated, but more importantly have valuable information to take back to their organization. For vendors who are interested in presenting at an IHEEP breakout session, send the 2019 Technical Program Committee an email expressing your interest with a presentation idea. IHEEP 2019 is a conference that keys in on useful topics and provides a platform for companies to brand market directly to a target audience. The marketing opportunities below are through the IHEEP Sponsorship program. Having this platform allows a company to grow their audience through relationships enhancing sales potential growth. Sponsorships are on a first come first serve basis and will be at a premium.
